

Terms & Conditions for Cashflow Application

This page contains the Terms of Use applicable to the Cashflow software application ("Application") on mobile devices.

1. The Cashflow Software Application ("Application") is the property of PT Bank Commonwealth (the "Bank"). This Application has both transactional and non-transactional functions, and to use the transactional function you must register and satisfy further requirements as specified in the Terms and Conditions stipulated by the Bank.
2. As a condition for using the non-transactional function of this Application, I hereby confirm that I agree to the following:
 - a. I have understood the functions of this Application and the characteristics and risks and consequences in relation to the use of the Application, including the operational risks and the losses that may arise from the use of the Application. Therefore, I shall bear all the risks and consequences that may be incurred in the future.
 - b. I understand that the Application is also dependent on other applications and/or media and/or infrastructure facilities owned by parties other than the Bank, including but not limited to the network/signal from the telephone operator, the mobile phone unit, and/or the token that I use; therefore, I agree that the Bank is not liable for any errors caused by such other applications and/or media and/or other infrastructure facilities owned by any parties other than the Bank.
 - c. I agree that the Bank and/or any of its affiliates may use the data and information I may provide or may have provided on this Application for the internal purposes of the Bank and/or its affiliates.
 - d. I agree to submit to the laws and regulations of the Republic of Indonesia, including but not limited to any laws, whether domestic or international in scope, related to financial crimes, corruption or money laundering.
3. The Bank may make backups of data and information of the Application user if the user makes a backup through the social id owned by the user.
4. The non-transactional function of the Application is not intended as a facility provided by the Bank promising financial benefits to the user of the Application; instead, it only serves to provide financial information or records for the Application user, and therefore the entire contents of the records shall be the sole responsibility of the Application user.
